WHEREAS, All the published evidence establishes most convincingly the fact that the life of this good man and loyal citizen was taken at the instigation of rum dealers, and by their act, or that of their accomplices; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That we have heard with surprise and abhorrence of the assassination of Rev. George C. Haddock, who, according to our conviction, was shot down at the instance of the rum rebellion simply because he was a loyal citizen, seeking the enforcement of the law of his State against the liquor traffic.

Resolved, 2. That we recognize in this audacious act, and in the whole liquor business, not only a crime destructive of humanity and of every virtue in society, but a malignant, moneyed organization, hostile to the government and laws of the States, especially the laws of those States in which prohibitory liquor laws have been enacted.

Resolved, 3. That we see in the brutal murder of our noble brother, Rev. George C. Haddock, the infernal animus and natural product of all liquor associations and practice.

Resolved, 4. That while we relegate the concealed murderer and his abettors to Him who says, "Vengeance is mine, and I will repay," we nevertheless, for the sake of law and order, and to secure the rights and safety of the advocates of temperance in future, express the hope that the fugitive culprit and his co-conspirators will meet a speedy and merited punishment.

Resolved, 5. That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family of our murdered brother, and shall instinctively cherish his memory as the pro-martyr of the temperance cause, and we approve the offer of a reward of one thousand dollars by the presiding elder of the Sioux City District to secure the arrest and conviction of the assassin, and recommend that a collection be taken in this Conference in behalf of this fund, and in the event our donation be not needed for the purpose stated, we direct that it be given to the widow of Brother Haddock.

Resolved, 6. That we request other Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church to take action in relation to this atrocious crime, and respectfully ask the bishops to call the attention of the conferences over which they may preside to this grave and menacing event.

Resolved, 2. That we commend our smitten brothers to the gracious care of that beneficent Ruler who mingles mercy with his severest dispensations, and we devoutly pray that he will sanctify to their good, and to the good of our common country, this solemn event and sorrowful experience, that it may teach us all both our duty to God and to one another, and may bind together in closer and more indissoluble bonds the hearts of the North and South.

Resolved, 3. That we heartily recommend our people to send to these, our fellow-citizens of the South, not only fraternal messages, but such financial aid as their hearts may prompt and their circumstances permit, and that we pledge our most cordial co-operation in this Christ-like work.

We greatly rejoice in the presence of Dr. Moody with us at the session of our Conference, and that we have been permitted to hear once more on the floor of the Conference and in the devotional exercises of the session the familiar tones of a voice which we have been so long accustomed to follow as that of a born, tried, and trusted leader.

As a man evidently called of God to take a leading part in public and ecclesiastical affairs, and richly endowed by high qualities of physical, intellectual, and spiritual manhood, Dr. Moody has been a conspicuous and honored figure in the most eventful period of our country's history; a man distinguished above his fellows for labors abundant in Church and state; whose praise is not only in all the Churches, but which also occupies a large space in the history of the great rebellion in which he bore so noble a part in defense of the Union.

We rejoice that in his enforced retirement from active service, on account of impaired physical health, Dr. Moody has found time to collect the facts and incidents of his long and useful life in the form of an autobiography, which we have examined as fully as our time would allow, and which we take great pleasure in recommending for publication by the Western Book Concern, as a contribution of rare interest and value to our denominational and biographical literature.

The Commission was organized by the election of W. L. Hypes as Chairman, and Leroy A. Belt as Secretary. The meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. W. G. Waters, and upon roll call the following named brethren answered to their names: W. L. Hypes, A. B. Leonard, T. H. Pearne, Wm. Runyan, of the Cincinnati, and W. G. Waters, O. Kennedy, G. Lease, H. J. Bigley, and Leroy A. Belt, of the Central Ohio Conference. After a general discussion of the question before the Commission, it was moved by G. Lease, and seconded by T. H. Pearne, that the verbal boundary line between the Cincinnati and Central Ohio Annual Conferences read as follows, viz.:

The Cincinnati Annual Conference shall be bounded on the north by a line commencing at Union City, on the Indiana State line, running thence along the Dayton and Union Railroad to Greenville, Darke County, Ohio, including the railroad stations along the line of said railroad, and Greenville also; thence along the Pan Handle Railroad to Milford Center, excluding Gettysburg, Bradford, Lockington and St. Paris charges, and including the cities of Piqua and Urbana, and the Tremont City and King's Creek charges.

After due deliberation this motion prevailed by a unanimous vote, and each member of the Commission was, on motion, requested to sign the minutes, which was done, as follows:

I concur in the above action of the Commission.

All fractions are dropped from this Report. $11.58 in cash from this source, by order of the Conference, has been paid to the Board of Conference Stewards.

GEO. H. DART, Treasurer.

REPORT OF AUDITING COMMITTEE.

Your Committee, appointed to audit the accounts of the Conference Treasurer, having discharged the duty assigned us, report as follows:

We have examined the accounts of the Treasurer, and find that all funds paid over to him have been properly distributed, and receipts for the same taken in every case. The Conference accounts with the Book Concern are in the most desirable shape, having been paid up to date, thus placing our credit at par with our publishers. The Discipline provides that the Treasurer shall not take account in his tabulated reports of odd cents paid over by the pastors in their collections. We find that from this source the Treasurer has in his hands the sum of $11.58, and he desires that the Conference direct the disposition to be made of said sum.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. RUNYAN,
THOMAS J. HARRIS,
D. D. CHENEY.

REPORT ON EDUCATION.

OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY.

THIS institution has had another year of great prosperity. The annual catalogue shows an attendance of 750 students, representing 31 different States of our Union and foreign countries, and 84 of the 88 counties of Ohio. Three hundred and twelve were enrolled in the four regular college classes, the Freshman Class numbering 151, the largest in the history of the University. In the Academic Department the fullest facilities are afforded for those who may not wish to take the full college course. Special attention is given to the study of Music and the Fine Arts. The Visiting Committee appointed by the Conference, Rev. Wm. Herr, D. D., and Rev. D. C. Vance, were present during the examinations of Commencement week, visited every recitation-room, and carefully observed the work of professors and students. They bring to us a highly satisfactory report, and speak of two noteworthy things, (1) "The enthusiasm manifested by the students of the University;" (2) "The religious spirit which prevails." In both of these features of collegiate life, as thus seen, we rejoice, but especially in the latter. This college is a Christian college. In this day of a secularized education, not only in our public schools, but in some of our great and most wealthy universities, when the oldest and most powerful one of all has yielded to the popular clamor, and has made daily attendance upon chapel exercises a voluntary matter, and thus has released the students from all religious obligations, we make thankful record of the fact that, at the Ohio Wesleyan University, a living, experimental Christianity is taught, and with such effect that every year many students are clearly and happily converted. It is not education, but Christian education, which blesses the recipient, and from the day the doors were opened to the first student until the present time this our beloved college has been true to its high ideal.

And we rejoice too that the University is a thoroughly Methodist institution. The President's report, in our hands, says that "the authorities of the University throw the entire force of their influence against all those subtle forms of demoralizing character, such as dancing, card-playing, wine-drinking, theater-going, and the like, which every Methodist minister knows are threatening the Church and imperiling its every interest." We are in hearty sympathy with the authorities of the University in this utterance. Such a declaration strengthens our hands in our pulpit and pastoral work, and we trust that the Faculty will ever remain unshaken in their adherence to this standard of conduct required of the students.

The Methodist Church in the State of Ohio has reason to be proud of the Ohio Wesleyan University; proud of the men who have filled, and of him who now so ably fills, the presidential office; proud of the Faculty, who have made their work a labor of love, and have taught so well and so cheerfully while receiving inadequate salary; proud of the Trustees, who have taken such deep interest in her affairs; proud of her Alumni, who are scattered all over the face of the earth, many of them holding honorable and influential positions. But the Methodism of the State has no reason to boast as yet of what she has done for the Ohio Wesleyan University. Methodism in Ohio has received thirty and sixty and a hundred fold for all she has ever given to this noble institution. We live in a day of splendid generosity. Other institutions have received rich gifts and bequests. Their endowment is represented by millions of dollars. The largest sum yet given to the Ohio Wesleyan University is $50,000, and the total amount of her productive endowment is but $364,000. The crying need of this institution is an endowment fund largely increased. The wonder is, that with the comparatively small sum at their disposal, the Faculty and Trustees have been able to do so much work and such good work. We herewith submit the financial statement taken from the Auditor's report:

W. G. WILLIAMS, Secretary of the Board of Trustees.

We recommend that the Bishop be requested to appoint Rev. Charles H. Payne, D. D., LL. D., to the Presidency of the University, and Rev. Lorenzo D. McCabe, D. D., LL. D., to the chair of Philosophy.

We recommend that Rev. W. L. Hypes, D. D., and Rev. M. M. Kugler be appointed as examiners and visitors for the coming year, with Rev. F. G. Mitchell alternate.

We recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Rev. L. F. Van Cleve, D. D., for a period of fifteen years, has faithfully served as the representative of the Cincinnati Conference in the Board of Trustees of the Ohio Wesleyan University; and

WHEREAS, He feels that the time has come for him to retire from this position, and he now declines re-election; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That we do hereby express our continued appreciation of Dr. Van Cleve, and acknowledge our indebtedness to him for his long and earnest service in this office.

Resolved, 2. That we recommend the election of Bishop J. M. Walden, LL. D., to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Dr. Van Cleve.

CINCINNATI WESLEYAN COLLEGE.

THIS Conference has long felt a deep interest in the welfare of the Cincinnati Wesleyan College. Among her Alumnae are some of the noblest women of the Church. The Church is under an ever-increasing obligation to the educated, devoted women who in recent years have formed and brought to such a high degree of efficiency such great organizations as the Woman's Foreign and Home Missionary Societies, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and kindred enterprises. It is to such institutions as the Cincinnati Wesleyan College that the Church must look for those who shall carry forward all such work. The President reports a good attendance during the past year, and good prospects for the year to come.

We recommend that Rev. W. K. Brown, D. D., be appointed to the Presidency, and that Rev. Wm. Runyan, D. D., Rev. W. I. Fee, and Rev. V. F. Brown, serve as visitors and examiners. At the suggestion of the President, we recommend that Mrs. Matilda Walden Royal and Mrs. Amy Sutherland Vance act as visitors and examiners.

HILLSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE.

THIS College has had a prosperous year. The Visiting and Examining Committee appointed by the Conference, Rev. C. W. Ketcham, D. D., and Rev. John Pearson, report a very encouraging state of affairs. There is no debt upon the property, but on the contrary the nucleus of an endowment has been formed. The outlook is very promising. This very satisfactory condition is due to the able management of the President, Rev. J. F. Loyd, D. D. We believe that it is not too much to say that President Loyd has saved this institution to the Methodist Church. After nine years of faithful service he now retires from the office, and we desire to put on record our high appreciation of the work he has done.

We request of the Bishop the appointment of Rev. W. C. Helt, Ph. D., to the Presidency of the College.

We recommend the appointment of Rev. John Pearson, Rev. D. W. Clark, Rev. James Stephenson, and Rev. George W. Kelly as visitors and examiners for the ensuing year.

We recommend, as Trustees, Rev. J. Pearson, Rev. J. P. Porter, Rev. L. M. Davis, Rev. D. W. Clark, Wm. Hoyt, M. D., J. M. Heistand, J. L. West, Harden Roads.

XENIA COLLEGE.

DURING the past year this institution has been sold by order of the Court to satisfy claims which have been accumulating for more than thirty years, and thereby has passed entirely from our control. There are still in the hands of the Trustees available assets to the amount of $1,198.63. Of this sum $400.00 is in the shape of a note given by the President, Rev. W. H. DeMotte, LL. D., but inasmuch as the money was expended for school furniture, and not on any personal account, we approve of the recommendation of the Trustees that the note be returned to Dr. DeMotte. We further recommend that all remaining assets be paid into the treasury of the Ohio Wesleyan University, to be added to the Cincinnati Conference Endowment Fund.

SPRINGFIELD FEMALE COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL.

AT the last session of this Conference the interests of the Conference in the real estate and funds of this institution were committed to the care of Rev. L. F. Van Cleve, D. D. He reports that a lease upon the property prevents any present final settlement. We recommend that he continue to act as the representative of the Conference in the case.

We recommend the election of W. J. White, J. M. Deardorff, P. P. Mast, C. H. Schaeffer, J. L. Berry, and J. S. Shewalter as Trustees, their terms to begin September 1, 1887.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOLS.

THESE institutions exist for the benefit of the whole Church. It is now the disciplinary duty of presiding elders and pastors to direct the attention of candidates for our ministry to the advantages here afforded. We are in hearty sympathy with this requirement. However zealous a young minister may be, however successful in his work, and though the demand for present labor be urgent, the life task which is given to him is so great, and of such supreme importance, as to make imperative the most complete preparation which can possibly be secured. A very helpful and almost necessary part of this preparation these schools are designed to give. Their present facilities are greater than ever, and young men, called of God to preach the Gospel, should also hearken to the invitation coming from these sacred halls. The reports forwarded to us from these institutions are most encouraging. From Garrett Biblical Institute cheering intelligence is received. A new building, to be called Memorial Hall, will soon be completed. "It will comprise chapel, library, and reading-room, and recitation and professors' rooms, and will be a very commodious and substantial and beautiful structure, costing some $38,000, nearly all of which is already subscribed or paid in.

Rev. A. Lowrey, D. D., as visitor and examiner from this Conference, attended the Commencement exercises of the Boston School of Theology, and, in connection with visitors from other Conferences, says: "We closed our observations under the unanimous conviction that the School of Theology of Boston University is a decided success, and merits the confidence and patronage of the Church." A large and splendid building, under the very shadow of the State House, within a few minutes' walk of great libraries, Churches, and public halls, has recently been purchased, and will be opened for the reception of students in a few weeks. Property so well adapted to the end sought is an honor to the Church.

Drew Theological Seminary has been long and favorably known to the Church.

The student who can spend three years at either of these schools can thoroughly furnish himself unto all good works, so far as human helps and theological training are concerned.

We recommend the Bishop to appoint Rev. H. B. Ridgaway, D. D., to the Presidency of Garrett Biblical Institute.

We recommend the appointment of the following brethren as visitors and examiners: Garrett Biblical Institute, Rev. Wm. Runyan, D. D., and Rev. B. F. Dimmick. Drew Theological Seminary, Rev. A. Lowrey, D. D., and Rev. S. O. Royal. School of Theology of Boston University, Rev. J. A. Story and Rev. H. C. Weakley.

REPORT ON LEGAL RELATIONS OF CINCINNATI WESLEYAN COLLEGE.

THE Committee appointed to investigate the legal relations the Cincinnati Wesleyan College sustains to the Methodist Episcopal Church, report as follows:

The property now used and controlled by the Cincinnati Wesleyan College was, from Sept. 26, 1826, to June 10, 1862, used for burial purposes, and was known as "The Catharine Street Burying Ground." This property was conveyed Sept. 26, 1826, by Charles T. Bernard and wife to Benj. Mason and others, Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Cincinnati. The consideration for the property was money paid and the further consideration that said property should be used "for a place of burial for the use of the aforesaid Methodist Episcopal Church of Cincinnati, and for any other purpose for the benefit of the Church aforesaid, and for none other." The property was used and occupied as a place of burial from 1826 to 1862, when, by ordinance passed by the City Council, further interments were prohibited. The property, as will be noticed from the above, was to be held in trust for the use and benefit of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of Cincinnati, and when it became no longer possible to use the property as a burial-place, owing to the ordinance mentioned above, the Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Churches then existing in Cincinnati, viz., Wesley, Morris Chapel, and Trinity, were empowered by an act of the Legislature, passed March 27, 1861, to sell, lease, or exchange said property for the use and benefit of the Wesleyan Female College, of Cincinnati, and upon such "condition, that should said College ever cease to exist as an institution of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the whole of said invested property shall revert to said Trustees, to be by them held according to the terms of the original trust." The property was thus held as an entirety by the College until 1867, when a portion north of the College building and elsewhere was leased and sold by the Trustees of the three Churches mentioned above, and the College, under the provision of a special act of the Legislature, passed April 3, 1867. This act authorized the Trustees of the Churches to apply to the Court of Common Pleas for an order to sell the property. This, the Trustees did in case No. 29344, and the decree of Court authorized the Trustees of the Churches to pay the money arising from said sale to the Wesleyan Female College. Thus it will be seen that the College received the college grounds now used as such, and also the money derived from the sale of the balance of the burial ground. It will not be necessary for the purposes of this investigation to trace the title to the property through its various changes, from the corporation to the trustees for the bond-holders, and from the trustees to the corporation again, where the title to the College and grounds now rests.

The Cincinnati Wesleyan Female College was organized under the laws of Ohio, May 30, 1862, as a separate and distinct corporation. The Articles of Association, among other things, provide, that the Board of Trustees shall consist of not more than twenty-one members, three-fourths of whom shall be members in good standing in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and at least five of whom shall be resident freeholders of the County of Hamilton; and the trustees of Wesley, Morris Chapel and Trinity, shall have the right to nominate, at a joint meeting called for that purpose, one-third of the members of the College Board. The last provision, from an examination of the minutes of the College, appears never to have been enforced, and the Trustees of the College have elected their own successors, and filled all vacancies. Although the property was deeded to the College, "to be under the control and for the benefit of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of the city of Cincinnati," and the legislative act provides that if the College ceases to exist as an institution of the Methodist Episcopal Church, etc., it would be legal and possible, under the Articles of Association and the By-Laws of the College, to have a Board of Trustees, three-fourths only Methodists, and all of the Trustees non-residents of the city of Cincinnati. At least two Trustees of the College have been non-residents of the State of Ohio. It can readily be seen that the Methodist Churches of Cincinnati have but little opportunity for representation in the College Board of Trustees.

An examination of the Minutes of the Cincinnati Conference from 1862 to 1885 discloses no recognition of the College as an organization under its control, or an organization in which the Conference has any delegated representation.

Conclusion.—The legal conclusion is, that the property is held by "The Cincinnati Wesleyan Female College," in trust for the use and benefit of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of Cincinnati, and should be under its control, as is shown by the act authorizing the conveyance to the College, passed March 27, 1861, and the deed so conveying the property, dated June 10, 1862. That any legal control has ever been exercised by the Churches is not shown by the records of the College or the Cincinnati Conference, and the conclusion is that the corporation has a distinct and separate existence without any direct or implied legal relation to the Church or the Conference.

REPORT ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

WE, your Committee on Books and Periodicals, beg leave to submit the following: Believing that the press is one of the most potent agencies in the molding of thought and character, we realize the necessity of that agency being pure; and, believing that our own books and periodicals are healthful in their moral tone, we bespeak for them a more general circulation.

We regret that so few, comparatively, of our Methodist families patronize our Church publications. The literature that enters too many Methodist homes is measured by a commercial, rather than a moral rule; the question, what does it cost? is more often asked than what does it teach? We sincerely hope that at no distant day our people will see the supreme folly of this disastrous method of economy. The quality of the work done by our Book Concern entitles it to the continued confidence and patronage of the reading public, and especially our own people.

We most cordially commend our Methodist Review, and believe it ought to be in the hands of every minister and intelligent layman in the Church.

We heartily indorse our own Western Christian Advocate, and believe it ought to be found in every Methodist home within the range of its circulation, and we pledge ourselves to do all within our power to reach that end.

We hail with gladness "Our Youth," the latest addition to our circle of Church papers, and trust it will be put into the hands of our young people throughout the Church; and we will do all we can to urge it upon the attention of the young people in our several charges.

REPORT ON FREEDMEN'S AID SOCIETY.

THE South, with over 800,000 square miles of territory, has a population of 18,500,000. Of these, twelve millions are whites, and six and a half millions are negroes.

In this territory the Methodist Episcopal Church has 420,000 members, and $8,000,000 of Church and parsonage property. Of these members, 325,000, and of this property, $6,000,000 have been gained during the last eighteen years. This territory, with only one-third of the nation's population, contains nearly three-fourths of the nation's ignorant masses.

As compared with the North, the South is poor, while the call for benevolent Church and educational works is much more imperative in the South. But while the North helps the South, the South must, and will, do more and more to help itself. Nearly one-fourth of the pulpits and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church are now in what was slave territory.

Considering the ignorance and poverty of fully half the Southern population, including that of our own Church, it is evident that to supply intelligent pastors, teachers, and leaders, for so large a section of our Church, is a work that will require a vast expenditure of money, and many years of wise and persistent labor. Of the 2,000,000 voters in the nation who can not read their ballots, nearly three-fourths are in the South, half of whom are white men. The number of ignorant voters in the South is increasing.

Can Christian patriotism suggest a more imperative duty than to give Christian education to the rising generation of the Southern States? Should we not, as quickly as possible, remove this menace to the safety of the Republic?

The South has an illiterate white population of fully 4,000,000. Half of these are in conditions, social, intellectual, and moral, as sad as multitudes of negroes just out of slavery. The Methodist Episcopal Church has 200,000 white members in the South, and thus, in the providence of God, has an open field to multitudes of these needy white millions, whose greatest want now is, many more intelligent pastors and teachers.

6,500,000, or twelve-thirteenths, of the negroes of the nation are in the South, and every problem touching their future must have its final solution in that section. Christian education, centering in the pulpit, the school, and the home, must, under God, be chiefly instrumental in solving with the least possible friction, the grave problems now confronted by the masses of the South, because of diversity of race, and a change of civilization.

When we compare the condition of the colored people twenty years ago with what it is now; when we realize the rapid progress made in intellectual and moral improvement in this brief period; when we consider the agencies employed in bringing about this great change, we can but rejoice in the prominent part that the Methodist Episcopal Church has taken, in common with other denominations, in establishing and sustaining Churches and schools, by which this grand result has been achieved. This work is only fairly inaugurated, and it must be prosecuted with increased efficiency, while such a large per cent of illiteracy remains among this people, and while so many of our Church Members in the South are in such great need of this help.

Our Church, in connection with an undenominational commission, entered upon this educational work immediately after emancipation, and in 1866 she organized the Freedmen's Aid Society, through which she has raised and disbursed more than a million and a half of dollars.

Our schools have been centrally located, convenient and attractive buildings have been erected, earnest and faithful teachers have been employed, and the school-rooms are thronged with eager and inquiring students. The means for sustaining this well begun work, our nearly two millions of members must and will supply.

While we are grateful for the past success of the Freedmen's Aid Society, and commend its present standing, we are earnestly desirous that its future may reach the expectations of every patriot and Christian philanthropist, enlightening the ignorant, qualifying the voter, and saving souls.

We commend the work of the honored and efficient Secretary and his assistant, Drs. Rust and Hartzell, for the preparation of the large, double-faced lithographic chart, for use before congregations, graphically showing the shades of illiteracy, from Iowa, where it is least, to South Carolina, where it is darkest, giving pictures of many buildings of the Society, and numerous facts bearing upon the work among the whites and blacks of the South.

We recommend that each pastor of the Cincinnati Conference earnestly strive to raise his apportionment for the Freedmen's Aid Society.

Respectfully submitted,

J. S. WHITNEY, Secretary.

REPORT ON CHURCH EXTENSION.

It is an acknowledged fact, among Christian workers, that one of the important factors in substantial Church progress, consists in possessing suitable houses in which to assemble the people for the worship of God.

It is equally true that, in many portions of our land, the people are without these needed houses of worship. In some cases it is the result of a want of ability to provide said houses, while in others, it is largely the want of a proper stimulus to quicker the people to do what they have the ability to do.

It has also been seen that in both of these cases, where a little initial and outside aid has been rendered, the best energies of the people have been aroused to put forth commendable efforts, and valuable Church property has often been secured in the early settlement of the "New South and West." Such a needed, stimulating agency, we recognize in the existence and work of our Church Extension Society.

That this is true of this Society, is clearly seen by a careful study of her inspiring dotted map, which shows where this Society has already planted the good seed put into its hands, and there we can count hundreds of Church edifices; some small, some large, where there would have been none, but for the timely and stimulating presence and work of this Society. It seems, therefore, to your Committee, that the claims of this Society should stand, with the Freedmen's Aid Society, next to our great Missionary Society, in its claims upon the sympathies and contributions of our people. Hence, we would most respectfully and earnestly recommend to all the members of our Conference, and through them to all of our people, the careful study and thorough knowledge of its important relations to the aggressive spirit and substantial progress of our Church. And that we see to it, that the Disciplinary plan for raising funds for this Society are rigidly carried out. That we use the Song Service on the day of collection, prepared for the occasion by the Church Extension Board.

Respectfully submitted.

J. W. BUSHONG, Secretary.

WM. YOUNG, Chairman.

REPORT ON THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CAUSE.

YOUR Committee regards, with gratitude to God, the increasing interest which is manifested in the Sunday-school cause. We regard the Sunday-school as a part of the Church, having identical interests, and would therefore recommend that all our schools be organized in accordance with the Discipline. We deplore the departure which some schools have taken in procuring lesson helps and papers other than those published by the Book Concerns, and would recommend that those in charge patronize our own publications, and we pledge ourselves to use our influence to secure this end.

In view of the lamentable fact that our children and youth are, to an inexcusable extent, ignorant of our doctrines, we recommend that our series of catechisms be used in every school.

We regard the Bible as the text-book of the Sunday-school, and request of those having charge, to see to it that every school has a full supply of copies of the Word of God. We note with pleasure the increasing demand for the Epworth Hymnal, and, believing it to be one of the best hymn-books ever published for Sunday-schools, we cordially recommend its use in all our schools.

We call attention to the serious fact, that children and young persons form a small part of our congregations, and we earnestly request the co-operation of parents, Sunday-school officers, and teachers, to secure their attendance upon the public services of the Church.

REPORT ON TRACT CAUSE.

WHEREAS, We believe that much good has been accomplished, and much more may be, by the judicious distribution of tracts among our Church members, and friends within the bounds of our respective charges, thereby giving a much-needed information on many of our Church interests, especially our benevolent causes; we, your Committee, deem it important, that all of our pastors make a more thorough use of this means of giving light to our people. We would recommend the use of tracts for several reasons.

1. They are in a condensed and clear form, so that many persons will read a tract, while they would not read a book on the same subject, though it be given to them.

2. It is the cheapest possible form of getting such information as we desire, before our people.

3. Because of the results that have actually followed the use of our tracts. Your Committee, upon inquiry, have discovered that a number of our ministers, during the last year, have been able to increase their benevolent collections from 20 to 50 per cent, by the faithful use of this tract literature. And, believing that such results may be made more general, we earnestly recommend that all of our ministers give this matter a careful consideration, and a faithful trial during the coming year.

REPORT ON TEMPERANCE.

THE Committee on Temperance presents the following report:

The liquor traffic continues to be the gigantic and relentless foe of the home, the Church, and the nation, the one unparalleled crime of Christendom, and the fruitful mother of evils, multiplied and monstrous.

Its enormities seem rather to increase than diminish, its attitude becomes more defiant and audacious, while its unquestioned dominance over the politics of the country is startling to contemplate, threatening, as it does, every interest of the Republic.

We are becoming weary of squandering strength and wasting words in mere rhetorical warfare against such a criminal, such an enemy of all righteousness, that ought to be outlawed and annihilated, rather than conciliated.

One ray of hope pierces the awful gloom that this dreadful traffic casts over the whole country. The people, at last, are awaking from a long and strangely unnatural slumber, and startled into a slight perception of the perilous situation, are rising in their majesty, to face and fight with becoming courage, this monster foe of the race. The patience of the saints, too long and too sorely tried by weary waiting for gentle measures to overcome the dreaded enemy, at length begins to question the virtue of its own persistence, and cries to heaven with intensity of earnestness, "How long, Lord, how long?"

The Methodist Episcopal Church, in its written laws, and in its highest official pronouncements, stands unqualifiedly upon the only worthy platform relating to this traffic, saying emphatically, in the body of its Book of Discipline, "We regard voluntary total abstinence from all intoxicants, as the true ground of personal temperance, and complete legal prohibition of the traffic in alcoholic drinks, as the duty of civil government."

It specifically classes as "imprudent and unchristian conduct," for which, if persisted in, its members are to be brought to trial, "the buying, selling, or using intoxicating liquor as a beverage, signing petitions in favor of intoxicating liquors, becoming bondsmen for persons engaged in such traffic, renting property as a place in or on which to manufacture or sell intoxicating liquors." It is impossible to conceive how a loyal Methodist can maintain any other attitude toward this traffic, than that of unqualified, aggressive, and never wavering antagonism. Neutrality or inactivity is alike inconsistent with the letter and the spirit of the Discipline and of the Bible, and can not, therefore, be other than unchristian and criminal. The Committee submit the following platform of principles, as expressing the present judgment and attitude of this Conference in relation to this traffic.

1. Believing that Constitutional Prohibition of the liquor traffic, with statutory laws necessary to the enforcement of Prohibition, is the legal goal of temperance endeavor, we again and emphatically demand of the General Assembly, of Ohio, at its next session, to submit to the people an amendment to the Constitution, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage, and we insist that such proposed amendment shall be separately submitted, without being involved with other propositions. In this connection, we respectfully remind our State Legislators that any unwillingness to trust the suffrage of the sovereign people, is un-American, and fraught with greatest peril to the Republic.

2. We re-affirm our unchanging opposition to license or tax laws in legislating against the liquor traffic, believing all such laws to be wrong in principle and injurious in their effects, giving a traffic, which ought to be branded as criminal, at least a quasi legitimacy, and lifting it to a recognized respectability, appealing to the cupidity of the people, and in every way retarding, rather than hastening onward, the great temperance movement.

3. Believing that the temperance cause will be greatly promoted by the dissemination of scientific knowledge respecting the deleterious effects of alcohol upon the human system, we respectfully urge the General Assembly to pass a law requiring that instruction upon that subject be given in the public schools of the State.

4. Whenever genuine prohibition of the liquor traffic can be secured, to any extent, by local option laws, without involving us in the support of license or taxation, we will accept such laws as a step toward the goal we seek, and co-operate in securing and enforcing such laws.

5. We feel called upon, as Christian ministers, to express our profound humiliation and grief, to see enrolled among the statutes of Ohio, a law embracing such features as characterize the so-called "Dow Law." As a temperance measure, it is, like nearly all of the legislation which we have been able to obtain in recent years, weighted down with embarrassing features, and reveals in its compromising character the too potent hand of the enemy.

The clause which permits the unholy traffic to be prosecuted on the Sabbath day, is a disgrace to a Christian commonwealth, striking, as it does, by permission, a defiant blow alike at the law of God, the Constitution of the State, and the common law of the land. It has one or two partially redeeming features, giving the council in any municipality power to close saloons and to prohibit the sale of intoxicants to minors. This fragment of the law we would by no means undervalue, and, without committing themselves to the support of the law as a whole, we recommend our people to make the best possible use of these prohibitory clauses.

6. We are none the less humiliated to see the United States government itself engaging in the atrocious traffic which it ought to outlaw, and keeping an extensive saloon in the Soldiers' Home, at Dayton, Ohio, dealing out to the veterans, whose valor saved the nation in its trial hour, the fiery intoxicant which will destroy them, soul and body. It would seem, in view of such a spectacle, that nothing more was needed to complete the humiliation and demoralization of a great and so-called Christian country.

7. The recent assassination of the Rev. Geo. C. Haddock, at Sioux City, Iowa, by the bloody-handed murderer, the liquor traffic, reveals the real character of the foe with which we do battle, and calls upon every true man and woman in the whole nation, to arise in the might of an unconquerable purpose, and with like courage and consecration, dare and do, until the heartless foe is vanquished, and the final victory won. The action of the Conference, already taken, in sending words of condolence to the bereaved family, and material aid for the prosecution of the assassin, and the support of the family of our martyred brother, sufficiently indicates the spirit of this Conference, and betokens an aroused sentiment, which will neither slumber nor grow weary amid such stern and solemn calls to heroic service.

8. Knowing well that the liquor obligarchy and its legislative allies are utterly indifferent to our indignant denunciations and persuasive appeals so long as they expend their force in fervid rhetoric, and knowing that the only argument that possesses value, or produces effect with them is, the ballot; we therefore, as Christian men, solemnly pledge ourselves, and give timely notice to all persons concerned, that from this time forward, we will stand, each for himself holding in his hand the ballot of an independent, free citizen, with an unfaltering purpose to cast that ballot only for such men and such measures as we conscientiously believe will give efficient temperance legislation, and will strike a deadly blow to the liquor traffic whenever an opportunity is afforded.

9. Without intermeddling at all with party politics, and in the spirit of that wisdom and charity which the Gospel enjoins, we will urge our people to stand religiously with us on this platform of Christian independence, in aggressive warfare upon the liquor traffic.

10. We recommend the appointment of Rev. M. Dustin, D. D., as Agent for the Conference Temperance Society, for the ensuing year.

REPORT ON SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

YOUR Committee on Sabbath Observance respectfully report :

Action of this Conference on this subject is comparatively recent. The first report adopted by this Conference was only eighteen years ago. This denotes that Sabbath desecration was less prevalent formerly than now. From the beginning, Methodism has always rebuked prevailing sins. As examples, note Mr. Wesley's denunciation of slavery and the rum traffic, a century and a third ago, the former as "the vilest that the sun ever saw," and the latter as murder. The General Rules prohibited dram-drinking and treating at elections, slavery, smuggling, and Sabbath-breaking. Since that first report, eighteen years ago, from year to year, brethren of age and ripe experience and sound judgment have been appointed to consider and report on this subject.

With great unanimity, these reports have emphasized the following postulates, viz.: The Sabbath law is coeval with human history; It is unrepealed and unrepeatable; It is of unspeakable value to the individual, the Church, and the state; Pernicious and criminal anti-Sabbath usages and practices have been imported into this country and sought to be made prevalent by our adopted fellow-citizens; Sunday newspapers have inflicted great injury by inducing wide-spread Sabbath desecration; Sunday railroad business has wrought great injury to public morals; Sunday camp-meetings with open gates have been of scant usefulness, if, indeed, they have not been decidedly injurious. Upon this last subject the utterances have been similar, earnest, and frequent. As many as eight times this Conference has advised either the holding of camp-meetings between the Sabbaths, or, if held on Sabbath, with closed gates. Sabbath desecration is alarmingly general and flagrant within our bounds. In our cities, saloons, cigar and drug-stores, are open on Sunday; and in Cincinnati, theaters, beer-gardens, and dance-houses, and concert saloons as well. Railroads do a larger freight business on Sundays than on week days. They carry more passengers to camp-meetings on Sundays, in cases where open-gate camp-meetings are held upon the lines of such railroads, than on other days of the week. Military camps and parades are open upon the Sabbath; grocery stores and market shops are kept open to the great injury of public morals. Newspapers are published and sold in our cities, and newspaper trains are dispatched on Sunday in all directions. Christians of all Churches, our own included, buy and read these Sunday newspaper issues, to the great scandal of religion and to their own loss and injury.

For this sad and general decline as to Sabbath keeping, the following, among other causes, may be assigned :

1. The late Civil War lowered public morals as to respect for human life, the drink traffic and habit, and Sabbath keeping. War knows no Sabbath.

2. Railroads have done much to weaken the public conscience as to Sabbath keeping, and demoralize their half million employes by denying them a Sabbath altogether. A whole generation of employes have been trained to utterly disregard and trample down the civil Sabbath. It is gratifying to learn by correspondence with Charles Francis Adams, president of the Central Pacific Railroad, that that road is making honest efforts to reduce Sabbath train-running to the lowest possible minimum; and, also, that the Pan Handle System is working in the same direction, by forbidding the running of excursion and freight trains on Sunday, and by sending all employes, at the expense of the road, to their homes on Saturday night, to enable them to have a Sabbath at their own homes.

3. The example of some Christians and ministers, in Sunday traveling, on railroads and in other ways, has been demoralizing.

4. The drink habit and the rum traffic have largely increased Sabbath desecration. It is of the very essence and nature of the liquor traffic, not only to cause crime, but also, itself to commit crime. Sabbath-breaking and assassination are direct and legitimate products of the saloon. The Dow Law provides, distinctly, for Sabbath-breaking, by authorizing city councils to permit, in municipalities, the sale of wine, beer, and cider on the Sabbath, so framing iniquity by a law.

5. Some of the foreign-born people of this country, abusing our hospitality, have sought to foist a continental Sunday upon America, by beer-halls, beer-gardens, and dance-houses, on Sunday.

The Cincinnati Law and Order League sought to obtain legislation, whereby they would be enabled to close the low Sunday dives; but, in attempting this, they so provoked the infidel Germans there, that they organized a Bund fur Recht und Freiheit, to carry out their principles, as follows, viz.:

First.—It is the unimpeachable right of every citizen to enjoy the general day of rest as suits him best, so long as he does not thereby encroach upon the rights of his fellow-citizens.

Second.—To prohibit amusements on Sunday which are permitted on weekdays, is unreasonable and unjust, because it deprives the great mass of the working classes of the only opportunity for recreation and social enjoyment which they possess.

Third.—The so-called "Sabbath laws," which are the product of the narrow-mindedness, intolerance, and love for sponsorial legislation of but a fraction of our population, are objectionable, as contrary to the spirit of our government.

Fourth.—The one-sided activity of the Law and Order League, and other reactionary societies and individuals, who direct their attacks against decent amusements, while they disregard the crying evils infesting our social body, should be emphatically condemned by all good citizens, as a wanton disturbance of the peace, and of the fraternal relations existing between all classes of our population.

Upon this declaration of principles we observe:

1. That a man has no authority to violate my right to have an undisturbed Sabbath. He has no right to injure my children, and the children of others, by demoralizing Sunday shows. Wm. E. Gladstone says, very forcibly, "Legislation should make it easy to do right, and difficult to do wrong."

2. The second principle enunciated, discloses the atheistic character of its authors. They denounce enforcement of Sunday-laws as "unreasonable and unjust," while God enjoins a strict Sabbath-keeping.

3. The Bund denounces Sunday-laws as contrary to the spirit of our government, when every intelligent man knows that Ohio and the nation are Christian States.

4. Denouncing, as a disturbance of the public peace and order, efforts to suppress the low Sunday dives, and to enforce the civil Sunday-law, is a strange putting of "darkness for light, and light for darkness; of bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter."

5. The crime of the Chicago atheists and anarchists, and for which they are soon to make expiation with their lives, is the natural and logical result of the teachings and practices of these anti-American conspirators against the Sabbath, and against the Christian foundations of this great nation.

6. Sunday camp-meetings, near large cities and chief railroads, with their open gates and gate-fee systems, have tended to diminish respect for the holy Sabbath, and to weaken the force of our testimony against the practices of our fellow-citizens of foreign birth.

7. In various ways, and to a large degree, the Sunday newspaper has promoted Sabbath desecration.

1. By its evil example of making and selling its issues.

2. By its free use of railroads to extend its Sunday sales over a wide area.

3. By its unstinted abuse of Law and Order Leagues and citizens who attempt the enforcement of Sunday-laws.

4. By its sophistical and oft-repeated averments and arguments in favor of Sunday entertainments. All this finds ample illustration and proof in Cincinnati and other cities within our bounds.

Here is a great, corroding, offensive ulcer upon the vitals of the State; and one of the chief hindrances of the Gospel. We have stated some of the principal causes. What is the remedy?

Each citizen should be taught from Christian pulpits, his duty to the State and to God, to honor the Sabbath, and in all proper ways to aid in its observance by others.

Christians should avoid all those practices which, while not forbidden by the civil Sunday-law, are forbidden by God's law. They should keep the Sabbath-law, in its spirit as well as in its letter. The Fourth Commandment is "exceeding broad." Christians should know it and honor it by faithful obedience.

Pastors should preach, frequently, distinctly, and earnestly upon the Fourth Commandment, until conscience is awakened and reformation results. The following resolutions are submitted:

Resolved. 1. That public shows and amusements, military parades and encampments, on the Sabbath, and, also, the opening of art-halls, museums, public libraries, county, state, national, and world's fairs and expositions, are contrary to the civil Sabbath as well as to God's law.

Resolved. 2. That we recognize, with high approval, the wisdom of the Commissioners of the Industrial Exposition, in Cincinnati, though urged by the Bund fur Recht, with a tempting bribe, to open the exposition to the public on Sundays, in declining to open the exposition on Sundays.

Resolved. 3. That we are in sympathy with the efforts of Law and Order Leagues, in Cincinnati, and elsewhere, in seeking to close the theaters and dance-houses on the Sabbath.

Resolved. 4. That the civil power is under obligation to enforce existing Sunday-laws.

Resolved. 5. That we will preach, at least once a year, in all our principal congregations, on the Fourth Commandment.

Resolved. 6. That, as pastors, we will kindly, firmly, and faithfully, explain, and apply our General Rules, and especially the General Rule relating to the Lord's day.

Resolved. 7. That we again recommend to all in control of camp-meetings within our bounds, that they keep the gates thereof strictly closed on the Sabbath, and suspend all sales, except of meals, on that day.

Resolved. 8. That we recognize, with approval, the successful effort of the Loveland Camp-meeting Association to keep the gates closed, on the two Sabbaths of their recent meeting.

REPORT ON DIVORCE.

YOUR Committee on Divorce submit the following report:

1. The marriage relation was ordained of God in Eden, when it was said, "Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife, and they shall be one flesh;" and its obligations remain unchanged and unchangeable.

2. The good order and purity of society require that these obligations shall be distinctly recognized and faithfully discharged by all who enter into this relation, until they are separated by death.

3. It is to be greatly feared that marriage is regarded by many as a mere convenience, to be used for selfish, if not impure, ends, and that it may be summarily ended at the will or caprice of one or both of the contracting parties.

4. While there may be reasons why married persons should live apart, there is no divine authority for legal divorce, except for the single crime of adultery, and then the guilty party is morally and perpetually disqualified from again assuming marriage obligations.

5. The statutes of the State should be in harmony with the law of God on this most important question, and we respectfully and earnestly request the General Assembly of Ohio to so amend our divorce laws as to secure such harmony.

6. We will, as ministers, preach definitely upon marriage and its divinely imposed obligations, to the end that the people may have clearer views and deeper convictions on this subject.

7. We will carefully inquire of parties applying to us for the solemnization of marriage, whether they have been divorced, and we will refuse to marry such as have not been separated on Scriptural ground.

REPORT ON MORMONISM.

MORMONISM of to-day is a contradiction. It wanes and still increases. Viewed in one aspect, it seems to tremble and be tottering to its fall; but looked at from another angle of vision, it appears to be making more rapid strides than ever, and to be striking its roots so deeply in the soil of our Territories as to blast every green thing, and excite apprehension that unless speedily suppressed it will prove itself ineradicable by any and every means except military force.

Since our last session and report upon this subject, the Chairman of this Committee has visited Salt Lake City, the center and seat of this great abomination. The accumulation of facts obtained is too great to be crowded into a brief report. We can only outline the condition of things there, and suggest a remedy for the evils.

Mormonism has planted itself in a succession of the most beautiful valleys in occidental America. They nestle at the feet of four grand mountain ranges—mountains high, sublime, rugged, bleak, and barren, forever capped with snow and full of mineral wealth. These valleys are instinct with vegetable life the moment they are touched with the arts of husbandry and agriculture. Salt Lake City is not remarkable for any thing, except that it is the head-quarters of the foulest sink of iniquity on American soil, unless we except the liquor traffic. The enterprise of the city is chiefly traceable to the Gentile population, though the Mormons practice on them the boycott principle. The Mormons have three great structures—the Tabernacle, the Endowment House, and the Temple. The latter is built of a species of granite, and has already cost, as the Mormons declare, three millions of dollars, and will require as much more for its completion. Fifty years ago the Mormons began this mystery of iniquity in Western New York with six members. To-day they state their number at home and abroad to be two hundred and fifty thousand. Their missionaries are sneaking through every land, and plying the poor, the ignorant, and the degraded with their arts of seduction,

Mormonism presents itself for our consideration under three distinct heads—a political organization, a so-called Church, and a harem. The three principles underlying Mormonism are avarice, greed of power, and lust. First it claims to be a kingdom, a theocracy, and as such it is hostile to the government of the United States. It is not only an imperium in imperio, but it is a training-school of treason and rebellion—a slow gunpowder plot and deep-laid conspiracy against the integrity of our national domain and the authority of Congress. The Mormon rulers teach their deluded followers that their kingdom will not only subvert the United States Government, but revolutionize all other governments and become universal. A part of their religion and worship on the Lord's Day is to curse the government of the United States, and inflame the passions of their superstitious and wicked dupes up to the point of assassinating the officers of government. They have an apostle which they themselves call the Swearing Apostle. I was told that several times since the passage and application of the Edmunds Law, the Mormons have conspired to kill the government officers. Their history is a history of blood. I was shown the alley where one had been waylaid and shot at, but fortunately the would-be assassin was himself shot and killed. It is believed that the Gentile population and all strangers are under a suspicious and revengeful surveillance.

And they have to-day not only the spirit of treason, but the sinews of war—to wit, men and money. It is computed that they can at this moment put twenty thousand men in the field, and by their tithing system raise a million dollars a year for their equipment and support. And from their enormous taxation, which has been going on for years, they must have vast treasure somewhere. Now with twenty thousand men provisioned and intrenched in the mountain canyons so near at hand, it will not be an easy and bloodless skirmish to subdue them. Our loss and defeat in battle with a few hundred Modoc Indians should teach us a lesson on this point.

I have supposed for years, and now, after having visited the spot and talked with Mormons, I am convinced, that the boys at this moment are being rocked in cradles whose innocent blood will pay the penalty of the nation's apathy and neglect. Indifference to the nation's welfare and scramble for office between the political parties is digging graves for our children.

Mormonism, as a Church, is as thoroughly organized as Romanism, after which it is patterned. They have all the holy orders known to ecclesiastical history—patriarchs, apostles, bishops, priests, elders, deacons, teachers, missionaries, etc.—with many other titles of their own invention.

Their organization is a complete net-work, which puts every city and nook of the country in connection with the capital. Every town and village in Utah is a city with a mayor, who is an ecclesiastic. Every city is divided into blocks and wards. Every block has a teacher, every ward has a bishop, and every city has a bishop over all the ward bishops. The teacher is nothing but a smelling committee of one, or an inquisitorial nuisance, whose duty it is to visit every family and inquire into all domestic affairs. He then reports to the ward bishop, who reports to the city bishop, and he reports to the president at Salt Lake City. Thus the whole population comes under a system of closest espionage. It is a cruel despotism. The golden rule of the Mormon is: "Mind your business, pay your tithing, and obey the priesthood."

Their teachings are simply blasphemous. Heber C. Kew, one of their dignitaries, harangued the people on this wise, in a sermon preached in Utah: "Brigham Young is my God and your God, and the only God you will ever see, if you do not obey him. Joseph Smith was God to the inhabitants of the earth when he was among us, and Brigham is God now." I hesitate not to say that the preaching places of the Mormons are sanctuaries of blasphemy.

The third and most abhorrent feature of Mormonism is the harem—a public harem authorized by the Church and State; and not only authorized, but insisted upon as a condition of salvation. The man or woman who does not enter into polygamous marriage disobeys God and imperils the soul. One writer calls the scheme "a national brothel." And that the title is not too severe will appear when we consider the type of polygamy there practiced. Mohammedan polygamy is put to the blush by it.

Mormon polygamy is provided for and exists under three forms. The first is simply a plurality of wives. And this is the extent of it, according to the public understanding. And against this crime as identical with a mild form of bigamy all congressional law and penalty are directed. But black as this kind of marriage is, it is lily white when compared with two other provisions of the same institution—to wit, spiritual marriage and marriage by proxy. Ordinary marriage to two or more wives they teach is a temporal relation, and ends with death. But spiritual marriage belongs to time and eternity and can never be annulled, and the same woman may be the temporal wife of one man and the spiritual wife of another.

A still more revolting character of their so-called marriage relations is what they denominate marriage by proxy. To understand this, it must be recollected that the Mormon priesthood exact absolute obedience of all Mormons. Many missionaries are wanted and sent to distant countries, usually for a term of eight years. Of course they leave wives, and to these some one or more of the hierarchy puts himself into the relation of marriage by proxy.

As might be expected, this devilish device answers the end for which it was intended, while politicians are saying: "We must not interfere with the rights of conscience in matters of religion."

Now, what has been done, and what is to be done? First, seventy of the law-breakers have been fined and sent to the penitentiary under the Edmunds law. Second, John M. Taylor, the President, and George Q. Cannon are in concealment, or have fled the country. Third, a vigorous paper, the Utah Christian Advocate, is published, which fearlessly exposes the corruptions and wrongs of Mormonism, and a good evangelizing work is being done by our missionaries. The monstrosity is practically decapitated.

What is needed? First, more stringent laws and heavier penalties. The prosecuting attorney of Salt Lake City told me this would be absolutely indispensable. The Edmunds law, though good, is inadequate, as the extent of the penalty for unlawful cohabitation is $300 fine and six months' imprisonment. It is just enough to make boasting martyrs of them in an easy and inexpensive way, the fines being all paid by the Church, and the culprits on returning home are lionized.

Second, an industrial school should be provided by the government for those who renounce Mormonism, or are left destitute by the application of the law to their criminal husbands.

We recommend the adoption of the following sentiments and principles of action:

Resolved, 1. That we petition Congress to expand and strengthen its laws against Mormonism, on the ground that it is a political conspiracy, composed chiefly of an alien element, made up mainly of persons of foreign birth, who are being taught and stimulated to antagonize and subvert our Republic and its institutions.

Resolved, 2. That we pray Congress to adopt and act upon the recommendation of President Arthur, as found in his message of 1883, and constituting an effectual remedy, if not the best yet suggested. It reads as follows: "I favor the repeal of the act upon which the present government of Utah depends, and the assumption by the national legislature of the entire political machinery of the Territory, and the establishment of a commission with such powers and duties as shall be delegated to it by law."

Resolved, 3. That we recommend that the general government itself, or the government in co-operation with the Churches, provide industrial homes and schools for those women and children, who are sure to be left in a degraded and destitute condition whenever, by the application of military force, Mormonism shall be overthrown.

Resolved, 4. That we recommend the continuance, during the ensuing year, of the present Committee on Mormonism as a commission to do what they may deem wise and practicable to achieve the objects of this report.

Resolved, 5. That we urgently advise concerted action by all the religious bodies of the country in pressing upon the national government speedy and summary measures in uprooting this monstrous iniquity; and that Rev. Dr. Lowrey, Chairman of our Committee, be authorized to open correspondence with these various bodies with a view to promoting such united action.

REPORT ON PARSONAGES.

WE are glad to note, through the reports of the various presiding elders, the substantial improvements made and the number of new parsonages erected during the year. That this good work may still be carried forward, we would respectfully recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, 1. That we urgently request our people in those charges where we have no parsonages to take action to secure them at as early a date as possible, and, in any event, to aid the pastor in securing a good, comfortable home.

Resolved, 2. That we call special attention to the necessity of furnishing all our parsonages, at least with the heavy articles of furniture, according to the provisions of the Discipline, paragraph 337.

Resolved, 3. That our pastors and committees appointed by the quarterly conferences give proper attention to beautifying and preserving the property.

REPORT ON FINANCE.

YOUR Committee on Finance submit the following:

We believe there is need of a more liberal giving to all the benevolent enterprises of the Church, in order that she may more successfully carry forward her great work. To secure this result, it is necessary that our pastors give careful attention to the subject.

We believe the financial plan contained in our book of Discipline is wisely adapted to secure pastoral support.

We do most earnestly recommend that all funds for current expenses or benevolent causes be raised by voluntary contributions, without resorting to fairs and festivals of questionable moral tendency.

REPORT ON AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

In the progress of time the Cincinnati Conference is more and more impressed with the importance and magnitude of the work of the American Bible Society in publishing, in various forms and languages, the Word of God. Still it is difficult to thoroughly appreciate its large share in the general results of evangelizing work, and its auxiliary value to our own individual fields. In seventy years it has sent out 46,877,646 whole or partial copies of the Scriptures. The last year it has printed or purchased, for distribution in all fields, 1,274,036 copies. The report of the "Fourth General Supply," up to date, states that 60,000 homes, which at the beginning of the year were without Bibles, have received this inestimable blessing. During the last four years there have been 335,021 destitute families supplied.

Such are some of the facts that will contribute to a proper recognition of the claims of this Society. Should this institution, for any cause, disappear from our great agencies of evangelization, its great worth would be speedily appreciated. And if, in order to its reinstatement in usefulness, our personal efforts were necessary, how untiring, how devoutly prayerful would be our labors. No contributions, however liberal, would be too large, and no stress upon our sympathies or draught upon our time would be too great, if thus only could be secured its restoration.

And surely as much earnestness as would be requisite for such restoration should now be employed in its continuance in vigor and power to bless.

And when it is remembered that the American Bible Society is the only means by which the holy influence, the divine comfort, the principles of righteousness contained in divine truth, can be conveyed to countless numbers of the race, additional reasons for earnestness and renewed activity in this matter appear.

We, therefore, recommend that the members of the Conference preach at least one sermon during the year on this subject, and do all in their power to obtain increased contributions for this important cause.

And, pursuant to the request of Brother Gillette, we further recommend the following:

Resolved, That where the agents of the Society do not take the collection, we, the members of this Conference, will do so.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON TRANSFERS.

WHEREAS, In the Godly judgment of our Bishops, the exigencies of our itinerant system have required the transfer of several of our brethren since the last session of this Conference; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That in William N. Brodbeck, who has been transferred to the New England Conference, and stationed at Tremont Street Church, Boston, we have parted from a brother universally beloved for his personal qualities as a man, and pre-eminently blessed of God in the work of the ministry; that our most earnest prayers, and our most sanguine anticipations follow him to his new and enlarged field; that we have heard with pleasure of the cordial welcome accorded him in the East, and of the success which has already attended his labors there; and that, should the episcopal authorities ever return him to us, we shall receive him not merely with brotherly affection, but with special delight as one of our ablest preachers and most successful evangelists.

Resolved, 2. That in John R. Shannon, who was transferred to the Kentucky Conference, and stationed at Louisville, we have lost a brother of fine culture, of excellent talents, both social and ministerial, and one giving promise of a career of unusual success; that we have heard with peculiar pleasure of the revival and large ingathering which attended his labors last Winter, and of the extensive Church improvements now in progress; that we shall ever pray for him, and shall be glad at any time to welcome him back among us.

Resolved, 3. That in W. R. Watson, transferred to the South-west Kansas Conference, and in E. E. Holmes, transferred to the Kansas Conference, we part with brethren whom we know to be able and faithful; who have and will ever have a warm place in our hearts; for whose success in their new and difficult fields of labor we shall constantly pray, and whom, should they ever be returned to our Conference, we shall cordially welcome as worthy co-laborers in the Master's vineyard.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON CENTENNIAL TEMPERANCE CONFERENCE.

DR. ASBURY LOWREY having been appointed to represent the Cincinnati Annual Conference, in the Centennial Temperance Conference, held in Philadelphia, September, 1885, duly complied with the order of the Conference, and spoke as follows on that occasion:

MISS PRESIDENT:—I represent the Cincinnati Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which body at its late session, held in Cincinnati, deputed me to appear at this Conference. The Cincinnati Conference is a prohibition Conference—a part of a prohibition Church.

The General Conference of the highest judiciary of our Church at its last session, held in this city, in May, 1884, committed the Church to constitutional prohibition in the following words: "We regard total abstinence from all intoxicants as the true ground of personal temperance, and complete legal prohibition of the traffic in alcoholic drinks as the duty of all civil governments."

The General Conference, and through it the Church, also took action looking toward organized effort outside the historic political parties if they should prove unfaithful to the interests of temperance. In her declaration of principles these words occur: "We heartily approve of all lawful and Christian efforts to save society from the manifold and grievous evils resulting from intemperance, and earnestly advise our people to co-operate in all measures which may seem to them wisely adapted to secure that end." Here is earnest advice to "co-operate with all lawful and Christian efforts" which have for their object the destruction of the liquor traffic, whether in the Church or out of it; whether in connection with political parties or out of them. The Conference in its report on temperance, which is now put in the Appendix of the Discipline, is still more specific. Under the head of "Legal Prohibition," it says: "While we do not presume to dictate to our people as to their political affiliations, we do express the opinion that they should not permit themselves to be controlled by party organizations that are managed in the interests of the liquor traffic."

If this does not look toward the formation of an independent organization, in the event of a certain contingency, it will be difficult to understand what it does mean.

While the Church wisely refrains from domineering dictation as to political relations, she strongly advises and directly teaches her people to break away from such political parties as are run in subserviency to the liquor interests. Wiser advice could not have been given. Devotion to the idol of party is the chief hindrance to all reforms in all the States at the present moment. It is the belief of our Church that it is time that these chains should be broken. Her position is, that we should give all parties to understand that "we be no more children tossed to and fro and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive."

It is known to some, but perhaps not to all, that a minister of our Cincinnati Conference, a man of great ability, high character, and blameless life, is to day the Prohibition candidate for the governorship of Ohio. The defamation flung at him by immoral political organs shows the utter unworthiness of the papers themselves and the parties they represent.

The Methodist Church does not go for a third party, or a fourth party, nor for any party at all as such. She goes for the wiping out of the saloon, by the legal annihilation of the liquor business. The prohibition measure does not present itself to her as a political measure. She thinks of it as a remedy for a reeking ulcer in the body politic and social. It is to her more than a moral question. It is a matter of life and death to the Nation, the Church, the family, and the individual.

The Methodist Church does not aim to build on the graves of old political parties; but if she can not find a sound foundation in them, she must seek for solid rock elsewhere. She believes that government is of God, but she does not believe that the administrators of government are always of God. That is a contingency that turns upon the use or abuse of the right of suffrage.

When a government apostatizes from its mission of being a "terror to evil doers," it ought to be overthrown; and when the administration of even a good government enters into wedlock with crime, it ought to be quickly and permanently changed: and to make this change is not only a right and a privilege, but a solemn obligation. To support a wicked government where it is elective, is really to participate in the crimes which that government protects.

The object of the Church is to eliminate the wrongs ingrained in politics, that the government may not hinder Christian effort. Methodism is bent on the destruction of the saloon. Her mandate to the whole brood of poisonous serpents and Briarean monsters is, "Get up and go, nor stand upon the order of your going."

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PEACE.

WHEN a multitude of the heavenly host heralded the birth of the world's Redeemer, the burden of their anthem was, "Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth, good will toward men."

In harmony with that angelic and divine sentiment, at the Ecumenical Methodist Conference, lately held in London, composed of 400 delegates, drawn from many countries, and representing 4,000,000 of Church members, and 20,000,000 adherents, the following resolution was submitted, seconded by Bishop Simpson, and carried with enthusiastic unanimity:—

"That in view of the essentially pacific character of Christianity, this Ecumenical Council can not but deeply deplore the present aspect of the professedly Christian world, so often desolated by destructive and sanguinary wars, while, during the time of nominal peace, the resources of the nations are exhausted in enormous preparations for war, which foment mutual jealousy and hatred, impose upon the people intolerable burdens of taxation and military servitude, and exercise, in many ways, an influence most injurious to the interests of religion and morality. The Conference, therefore, commends to the sympathy and support of the Churches all wise and well directed efforts to substitute arbitration or other forms of amicable and pacific reference in the settlement of international differences, in place of an appeal to the sword, and thus help to hasten the coming of that reign of peace so closely associated, by promise and prophecy, with the ultimate triumph of Christianity."

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church has passed unanimously resolutions of a similar character.

The following noble resolution was carried at the Pan Presbyterian Council, in 1880, claiming to represent 4,000,000 communicants and 20,000,000 adherents:

"Resolved, That this council, representing the common Christian faith, and civil and religious liberties of many lands, respectfully and earnestly lifts up its voice for the preservation of the peace of the world by the application of those principles of Christianity which underlie the system of modern international law, which have already prevented war between the most powerful Christian nations by successful arbitration, and which are the heritage of the world through the Gospel of the Prince of Peace."

Whereas, This Conference approves of the foregoing sentiments; and,

Whereas, It is important and essential to the ultimate triumph of a religion of peace, that the "principles of Christianity, which underlie the systems of modern international law," acting in harmony, and promotive of the Gospel of the Prince of Peace, should be maintained assuredly as vital and important as Temperance and other reforms; therefore,

Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed by this Conference, and at ensuing Conferences, to be styled the "Committee on Peace," whose duty it shall be to make a report to the Conference, as upon other subjects of moral reform.

MEMOIRS.

REV. JOSEPH J. HILL.

REV. JOSEPH JEFFERSON HILL was born in Frederic County, Maryland, September 18, 1805. His parents moved to Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1809. Here he was converted, and united with the Church December 12, 1824, being in his 19th year. He was licensed to exhort in 1827 by Rev. Wm. Simmons, and to preach September, 1828, by the Chillicothe District Conference, Rev. John Collins being the presiding elder. On his 23d birthday, 1828, he was admitted to the Ohio Conference, and appointed as assistant, with Rev. James Quinn, on Hillsboro Circuit. In 1829 he was on Lebanon Circuit, with Rev. T. A. Morris as senior colleague. In 1830 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Soule, and put in charge of St. Mary's and Fort Defiance Mission. In 1831 he was associated with Revs. W. H. Raper and R. Brandreth on the Mad River Circuit. July 26, 1832, he was married to Miss Ernestine Cordelia, daughter of Bishop Soule. He was ordained elder this year by Bishop Emory, and appointed to London Circuit, with Rev. James Smith as colleague. In 1833 he was made supernumerary, and associated with Revs. Levi White and D. Whitcomb on the Lebanon Circuit. During this and the succeeding year on Hamilton Circuit he makes record that he was nigh unto death. Indeed, at one time he sunk so low that, at a consultation, the physicians decided that he could survive but a few moments. Overhearing their conclusion, he was so filled with rapture at the thought of being so soon in heaven that he broke out into shouts of praise. The excitement brought on a reaction which resulted in his recovery. He served successively in 1835-6-7-8 on Winchester, Franklin, and Milford Circuits with Revs. F. B. Butler, David Reed, M. P. Gaddis, and G. C. Crum as colleagues. In 1840-1-2-3-4-5 he had charge of the Xenia, Frankfort, Wilmington, Circleville, and Lebanon appointments.

In 1846 he joined the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and served two years in Covington, when for one year he was transferred to the Tennessee Conference, and put in charge of the Harpeth work. At its close he was transferred to the Kentucky Conference, and again placed in charge of the Covington station. Here his wife died July 26, 1850. After one year in charge of the mission work in the mountain region of Kentucky, he was re-appointed in 1851, and again in 1852, to Covington. He was married July 26, 1853, to Mrs. Mary L. Drake, of Lebanon, Ohio.

In October of this year he returned to the Methodist Episcopal Church, and, being admitted into the Kentucky Conference, he was transferred to the Cincinnati Conference and stationed at Hamilton, Ohio. After two years in the Middletown and one year in the Greenfield station, he became supernumerary for one year. In 1858-9-60 he was in charge of Highland Circuit and Waynesville station. In 1861, while pastor at Fairfield, he was elected chaplain of the 73d Ohio Regiment, and immediately entered upon his duties. After the war he filled respectively Bethel, Germantown, Westchester, Fletcher, St. Paris and Lena, New Paris, Tippecanoe, Fair Haven, and Centenary charges. Six years ago he was placed on the superannuated list, and settled in Lebanon, Ohio, where he continued to reside until his death, November 11, 1885.

Though superannuated, he was constantly active. There was seldom a Sabbath without his preaching, and often twice and thrice, and his winters were largely devoted to evangelistic work, in which he was greatly successful. His heart was always in the work. He responded to every call to labor within his power, not only within his own communion, but among other evangelical bodies. To his own Church he was thoroughly loyal—he loved it truly; but to the general Church he was broadly catholic. He loved the followers of Christ wherever he found them. He was deeply penetrated with evangelical doctrines, and especially the great, distinctive doctrines of Methodism. He held them clearly, and preached them firmly and fully. He could preach no otherwise. As God gave him to see the truth, he uttered it. He was a flaming evangelist. He felt himself; he made others feel. Seldom did he preach without finding a personal exaltation which took form in joyful shouts. A revival was his normal state. He was never so happy as amid the shouts of new-born converts. At such times he seemed transfigured. An inexpressible glory thrilled him. He was satisfied. Heaven had begun. The marked characteristic of his ministry was its revival influence. It is safe to say that thousands have been brought to Christ under his pastoral and evangelistic labors, extending through more than 57 years.

In age and retirement from regular work, he was always sweet and cheerful. He loved his brethren of the ministry, and always spoke of them kindly and tenderly. Their character and success were dear to him. Toward his pastor he was thoughtful and helpful, always speaking encouraging words and doing kindly deeds. His last sermon suited the hour and event. No text could have graced his finished ministry more perfectly. Unintentionally he drew the attention of the hearers to himself, and constituted the ideal which he represented. He was in perfect health, and death seemed afar, when, by invitation of the pastor, on the evening of October 25th, he preached in the pulpit of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Lebanon, Ohio. His text was Psalms xxxvii, 37: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace." His theme was holiness and its recompense; or, holy lives making peaceful death-beds. It was tender and true, and held prophecy of the near future. The next day the pastor met two gentlemen, neither of whom was a professing Christian, and each said, in referring to the sermon: "If holiness is possible in this life, Father Hill has lived it." They had known him for years, perhaps from their childhood. It was the verdict of the community where he had been well known as man and minister for over 55 years, not when death had glorified his virtues, and obscured, if not obliterated, his vices, but in the midst of life and health.

Death came to him suddenly and unexpectedly. At fourscore and beyond his powers of mind and body seemed undecayed. Death was like a translation, so short and painless was his last sickness. November 6th he was stricken with apoplexy and its resultant, paralysis. He probably never knew his real condition, as he sunk into a comatose state immediately, which continued to the last. From this he was only aroused with great effort, and for short periods, to sink into deeper slumber. On one of these occasions the pastor asked him whether Christ was precious, and the answer was, "Christ is precious." Again the pastor said, "You are very sick, but God will do what is best for you." With the simplicity of a child he said, "Of course he will," emphasizing the first two words. November 11th, at 6.30 in the morning, he passed away without a struggle, aged 80 years, 1 month, and 23 days. A wife and three children preceded him in death, and a widow, one daughter, and two stepdaughters survive him. His life was a benediction, and his memory holds inspiration. A good man is the grandest attestation of the Gospel.

GEO. H. DART.

REV. JOHN COOK MADDY.

JOHN C. MADDY, son of Jacob and Nancy Maddy, was born in Monroe County, West Virginia, February 5, 1822, and died in Kokomo, Indiana, December 12, 1885. His parentage was highly respectable. He was reared to the business of farming, in which he was well skilled, and always manifested a deep interest in the cultivation of the soil.

His early opportunities of acquiring an education were exceedingly limited. He alternated between the country school and the duties of the farm until he was some twelve years, when the latter duties claimed his whole attention, and the former, of course, had for the time being to be abandoned; yet, with a mind capacity far above mediocrity, and with an inflexible purpose to acquire knowledge, he surmounted all these disadvantages.

He early outlined to himself a system of reading and study embracing the entire curriculum of the Ohio Wesleyan University. To this he tenaciously adhered until he mastered it. The result was, he became an educated man—a self-made man—well versed in the various branches of English education, in the Greek, in general philosophy, and Biblical criticism.

Brother Maddy embraced religion at a camp-meeting held near where he was raised in West Virginia, August 30, 1842. His conversion was clear and satisfactory. He united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at an early stage of his Christian experience. He was deeply impressed with the duty of preaching the Gospel. Such, however, was his view of his want of qualification for this great work, that he shrank from it; but some three years after his conversion he had a severe attack of lung fever, during which he was given up to die. In this sickness he promised God that, if he would spare his life, he would consecrate his whole life to the work of the Christian ministry, and his after life showed that he was not disobedient to the heavenly calling. In 1843 Brother Maddy moved to Gallia County, Ohio, to procure a farm, to which he soon after removed his parents. In 1846 he received license to exhort, and in 1849 received license as a local preacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

A vacancy occurring on the Ironton Circuit, he was sent out as junior preacher. Two weeks before he was licensed to preach, in 1850, he was admitted on trial in the Ohio Conference. In due time he was admitted into full connection, and ordained deacon and elder. On the division of the Conference, he fell into the Cincinnati Conference, of which he remained a member until his death. The following is the list of his appointments: Wheelersburg, Madisonville, Goshen, Amelia, Harrison, Miami, Laurel, Manchester, Moscow, Amelia, Mount Washington, Centenary, Walnut Hills, and Amelia. While at Amelia for the third term, in 1870, his health failed in the middle of the year. He was obliged to take a superannuated relation, and in that most honorable relation he remained, testifying to the grace of God to sustain in the midst of the greatest prostration of body until the day of his death. In his active ministry he preached two thousand three hundred times, and received some thousand members into the Methodist Episcopal Church.

In 1852 Brother Maddy was married to Miss Hannah S. Langdon, daughter of Charles Langdon, Esq., formerly of Red Bank, now of Madisonville, Ohio. This union was a most happy one. Sister Maddy has proved herself to be indeed a true helpmate to her husband during his ministry, both in health and affliction. Eight children were born to them, two of whom the kind Father in heaven took to himself. The other six have grown to manhood and womanhood. Four reside at the home of the mother. One, a married daughter, resides in Wichita, Kansas; and the oldest son does business in Toledo, Ohio.

For fifteen years Brother Maddy was the victim of disease. In 1874 he removed to Rushville, Indiana, where he purchased a small farm, on which he resided 4 years. Three years ago he sold this place, and purchased another farm at Kokomo, Indiana. About six months after his removal to Kokomo, he was prostrated, and never rallied again to be out among his brethren or in the Church. Immediately before his death he was better than usual. He was taken worse at noon of the day before his death, and continued to sink until death relieved him from his sufferings. On that day he was in the full possession of his consciousness until midnight, giving all his directions and final counsels to his wife and children. At midnight he became unconscious; and, at 5 o'clock in the morning, the light of eternal day dawned upon him, and he was at home in his Father's house in heaven. He died from pure exhaustion.

His funeral took place, from his residence, on the morning of December 15, 1885, and was conducted by his intimate friend and former pastor, Rev. Dr. R. Andrus, assisted by the Rev. J. E. Ervin, presiding elder of Kokomo District, and by his pastor, Rev. C. G. Hughs.

As a man, Brother Maddy was transparent, ingenuous, and honest. He was the soul of honor in all his relations, especially in pecuniary matters. He never feigned to have any characteristics which he did not possess. Toward others he was confiding, truthful, and unsuspecting. He was public spirited, and all his powers were ever fully thrown on the side of every great and good reform. His reputation as well as his character was ever above reproach, and not the faintest shadow of aspersion was ever cast upon his fair fame.

As a preacher, Brother Maddy never sought great things for himself, and yet he was a most excellent preacher—a workman that needed not to be ashamed. His sermons were generally expository, and usually distinguished by great originality of thought. In his days of health he has been known to preach sermons on even ordinary occasions of great eloquence and of stirring power—sermons which would do credit to any pulpit in the land. No one could attentively hear Brother Maddy preach without learning some new thought he never knew before.

As a superannuate, he was cheerful and sweet spirited. He never repined, but was hopeful and pleasant. He was always a valued helper to his pastor. There was nothing about him that caused his pastor to dread him; but, on the contrary, his pastors looked upon him as a brother beloved and a wise counselor. In his home as a family man, he was affectionate, kind, and full of love, yet always ruled his own household well. He was anxious for the education of his children, and did all in his power to aid them.

His influence and faithfulness; even in his sickness, are well shown by the fact that all of his children have developed into a Christian maturity, and not one of them has ever done or said aught unworthy of the character or standing of their father. The love between him and his wife was such that it was a pleasure to care for him; and their affections were remarkably developed by a third of a century of trial and suffering.

WM. YOUNG.

REV. DENNIS CALLAHAN.

REV. DENNIS CALLAHAN, son of Dennis and Anna Callahan, was born near Mt. Orab, O., Nov. 24, 1819. He died in Hillsboro, O., May 6, 1886. When about sixteen years old he was converted, joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and soon after became an active worker, first as an exhorter, and afterwards as a local preacher. In 1846 he was married to Mrs. Sarah H. Wright, whose maiden name was Ross; a sister to three itinerant preachers of the same name, two of whom, Revs. Jolin W. and Thomas Ross became members of the Ohio Conference.*

Inclining to the medical profession, he began the required studies, finished the course, and graduated from one of the medical colleges of Cincinnati. For several years he practiced medicine with success in his native county. Moved, however, by the conviction that he ought to preach the Gospel, he permitted his name to be brought before the Cincinnati Conference, at its session in Hillsboro, in 1853; was admitted, and stationed at Sinking Springs, where he remained two years. His subsequent fields of labor were Buena Vista, Winchester, West Union, Moscow, New Lexington, and Lynchburg Circuits.

Health failing, he asked for, and obtained a superannuated relation. Locating at Hillsboro, he resumed the practice of medicine, which he followed with eminent success for sixteen years. A severe stroke of paralysis, occurring Sept. 3, 1881, unfitted him for active work, though patients often sent for him to prescribe, as formerly. After an interval of nearly five years, during which his strength gradually failed, a second stroke rendered him wholly unfit for any professional work. He lingered awhile, when death came to his relief. "He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him." His remains lie in the beautiful cemetery at Hillsboro, awaiting the resurrection.

Dr. Callahan was a good, genial, Christian man, a sensible preacher, a safe pastor. Those who knew him best loved him most. His memory will long be cherished in many hearts.

JOHN F. LOYD.

MRS. MARY A. COLE.

MARY A. COLE, daughter of Leonard and Nancy Cole, and wife of Rev. E. M. Cole, of the Cincinnati Conference, fell asleep at Winchester, O., Sept. 18, 1885.

She was married to Rev. E. M. Cole, April 23, 1843, and together they entered upon the itinerancy in the Fall of 1850. For thirty-two years she was the faithful companion of her husband in his ministerial career, cheered him on in many a hard-fought battle, and rejoiced with him in the victory won for God. Converted when eleven years of age, she rejoiced in a conscious sense of sins forgiven, and from that hour to the close of life never expressed a doubt as to the power of Jesus to save.

At a camp-meeting held in Brettingham's Grove, Adams County, O., she sought and found the blessing of perfect love. Her experience and testimony on this point was, "I rest in Jesus," "I am saved to the uttermost." Sister Cole was a great sufferer for fifteen years, but never complained. Her constant prayer was that she might exhibit in her life and suffering the character of a true disciple of Christ. She was afflicted with malignant cancer, and knew for many months that she was going into the valley of death; but the way was light, no cloud shadowed it, and her soul was kept in perfect peace. A noble woman has joined the redeemed host; a loyal, faithful, loving servant of God has gone to her reward. The Church she loved and served so well honors her, and the greatly afflicted husband and minister of God waits longingly to join her in the better land.

A. D. MADDOX.

MRS. SARAH I. CLEMANS.

SARAH ISABELLA CLEMANS was, for twenty-six years, the noble, honored wife of Rev. F. M. Clemans, a member of this body. The charges she and her husband filled were Union Circuit, Fairfield, and Middletown, each three years; King's Creek, two years; Mechanicsburg and Miamisburg, each three years; Ripley, two years; Jamestown, two months. In all, nineteen years and two months.

On Thursday, November 5, 1885, just before the earthly sun-rising, she ascended to the dawn of the eternal day, to see the King in his beauty, and to gaze forever upon the Sun of righteousness. We do well to weave a chaplet to her memory and place it on permanent record.

Mrs. Clemans's Christian life, as the gifted, devoted wife of a faithful pastor, as possessing a cultured mind of more than average grade, and as a person of eminent piety, was unusually beautiful. It merits the tribute here given.

Early religious training in a godly home yielded the precious fruit of a consecrated Christian life, and of earnest, successful work for Jesus. Sister Clemans was a great helper: to her husband, by sympathizing with him and encouraging him in his labors and sacrifices for Christ; to his parishioners, by her wisdom and womanly tact, so supplementing his work by her zealous and manifold service for the Master.

She excelled as a worker in Sabbath-school and among the young, and also in enlisting and organizing Christian women for temperance and missionary, and other doing and giving for the glory of Christ and the saving of souls.

In Sunday-school Class No. 3, in Jamestown, to which she had gone only two months before, she was greatly appreciated and loved. Her death was regarded by them as a sad, irreparable loss. The members of this class united with the officers of the school in a touching expression of their high esteem, and of their great bereavement in her sudden removal.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Ripley, Ohio, recognizing her character and work as truly beautiful, adopted, in substance, a resolution, "That, in the death of Mrs. Clemans, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has lost an efficient worker, the Church one of its best members, the world a good woman, the husband an affectionate wife, the sons a kind and loving mother. . . . Possessed of rarest gifts, she was not only an efficient officer, but also a woman of such sweet, Christian virtues that the radiance of her life fell like a benediction upon all who knew her. . . . It seems a fitting close to such a consecrated life that her last earthly hours should be devoted to the cause of missions, and that her last act on earth should be an earnest prayer for its success."

Like testimony to her excellent character was borne by members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Ripley and of other places. Similar testimonials came to her husband from personal friends, including, especially, her late presiding elder, Rev. S. B. Smith, and her then presiding elder, Rev. A. N. Spahr.

Sister Clemans's conversion was clear and satisfactory. She had been a member of the Church for three years. While, from earliest childhood, she had been devout and prayerful, yet, up to that time, she had not had a distinct, positive assurance of having passed from death to life. She was called on by her pastor to pray for seekers of religion at the altar. As she was about to comply, the question flashed upon her: "Are you sure that you, yourself, are regenerated?" She prayed earnestly that God would give her the evidence of her own acceptance. The witness came, clear and unmistakable, that she was a child of God.

Equally happy and conclusive was her experience of the cleansing power of Jesus' blood. It was in 1871, at that remarkable camp-meeting in Urbana, when Alfred Cookman preached the wonderful sermon, on "Be filled with the Spirit," which many speak of to this day. In the afternoon Dr. M. C. Briggs preached on "He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself." Sister Clemans presented herself at the altar as a seeker of heart-purity. Satan fiercely assailed her: First, that her faith was so weak that the blessing could only come to her at her death; and then, that if she should now get the great blessing, she would lose it. She cried unto the Lord. The tempter was foiled. Then, kneeling at the cross, she made a complete surrender and consecration to Christ. The offering was accepted. The great transaction was done. The sweet promises, exceeding great and precious promises, had a new light and glory upon them. In her own words: "Then was the mighty work wrought. Jesus cleansed my soul, and filled it with his perfect love."

Ever afterward the power of this new and rich experience was seen in her life and spirit and testimony, and in her cheerful acceptance of all toil and hardship and sacrifice for Him whom now she loved with all her heart.

The domestic life of Sister Clemans was peculiarly happy and beautiful. The marriage was one of pure love, which began when she was only thirteen and he eighteen. The union was one of the most perfect possible. Four children were born to them: Lillie Viola, Nellie Grace, William LaRoy, and Frederick Marion. The daughters preceded their mother to the heavenly home.

Sister Clemans wrote some lines on the death of Lillie entitled, "Does she watch for us in heaven?" Among other verses, is this:

"Little Lillie, up in heaven,
With your wings and golden hair,
Do you look upon your mother?
Do you wish that she were there?"

Not long after the death of Nellie Grace she wrote "Heavenward." The whole seven verses are very beautiful, but especially the last three, as follows:

"There are the friends who have passed away,
Father and brother and sister dear;
Carrying me back to my girlhood days,
Scenes of my childhood coming near—
Beautiful forms with radiant brow;
Lovely in death, but lovelier now.

There are our own, our jewels rare—
Two little girls in purest white—
Golden and auburn silken hair,
Blue eyes and dark look down to-night—
Four tiny feet by the riverside,
Four dimpled arms are opened wide.

O that our faces could always be
Bright with the light of the other shore;
O that we could, when our hearts are free,
Think of our heavenly home the more—
Less of this sordid world of strife,
More of the things of the endless life."

Mrs. Clemans's possessed the poetic gift, as these lines indicate. On various occasions she wrote pieces commemorative of distinguished persons and events, among which may be named, "In Memory of General Grant," "For Decoration Day," "On the Centennial of Mother Baxter, of Mechanicsburg, Ohio," "On the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of our Marriage." These, together with her diary and letters, have been compiled and published by her husband in an interesting volume entitled, "Flowers from the Pathway of a Consecrated Life."

With failing health for the last four and a half years of earth, she labored on in all the varied lines of work coming to her. The Ripley appointment was especially trying. The humid climate was very severe upon her delicate and declining frame. Then came the great flood. The parsonage was partially submerged, driving the inmates up stairs. Then came the heavy work of providing and distributing relief. Mrs. Clemans was President of the Relief Association. Timely and helpful was the Jamestown appointment. Old friends kindly welcomed her return, after an absence of nineteen years. Health came. The home grew bright under her skillful touch. Hopes of full recovery were indulged. Alas! they were illusory.

Three months before her death Mrs. Clemans had a premonitory stroke. She distinctly gave her impression that the end was near. More than once she had said to her husband: "I do not expect to live long. I shall not live to be old."

About a week before her death she said, in prayer-meeting: "If I had consulted the flesh, I should not have been here. Then I remembered that this is the world of labor and toil, but not of rest. While I feel tired, yet I am sweetly resting in Jesus. I was just thinking how sweet it will be to go home to heaven, when our work here is done, and rest through a long eternity with Jesus." As the time of her translation drew near, she grew more saintly, as though Jesus had

"Whispered his call to her heart."

On her last Sabbath morning, November 1st, she rose and reviewed her Sunday-school lesson, saying to her husband that she would adopt a new method in her class, which was to have each member write down the most important thought received during the class hour. Her testimony at the general class-meeting that afternoon showed that she was, perhaps, unconsciously nearing the shining shore and the white-robed saints. It was this: "We should be glad to belong to a Church having such helpful means of grace as this. I am resting in Jesus—trusting him moment by moment. This is the way I have done for years. I was just thinking this may be my last general class." After dinner on that memorable Sabbath she seated herself at the organ and began playing, saying to her husband: "Come, my dear, let us sing some of our old songs." "What," said he, "so soon after dinner?" "Yes," she replied, "we will not get to sing many more times together. We may not have another opportunity." Her selections for this last singing together were: "Companionship with Jesus," "Down at the Cross," "Resting at the Cross," "I am Trusting, Lord, in Thee," "Welcome to Glory," "Under His Wings." Together they sang all the four verses of Bonar's beautiful lines:

"Beyond the smiling and the weeping I shall be soon."

The end was characteristic. She was present and presiding at a meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. On opening, at her request, the piece was sung: "Cast thy bread upon the waters." In closing she commended those present, remarking: "We have held our meeting longer than usual, but we will not close without prayer." Then, kneeling, she offered the following beautiful prayer:

"Dear Jesus, our Savior, we thank thee for this pleasant meeting. We pray for thy blessing upon the exercises now closing, and upon those who have so beautifully entertained us. Dear Lord, we ask thee to bless the missionary cause and all Christian work. Bless our Church, and may we all be more earnest workers. Grant that this may be the best Conference year of our lives. [It was.] May many souls be brought to Christ. We pray for the young ladies of the Church, and especially for the girls. Grant that they all may be interested in this work. And, dear Jesus, we ask thy presence at our next meeting. We know thou art with us now. May we each one be kept very near to thee, and have joy in thy service until we meet again. All this we ask for Christ's sake. Amen!"

Just as the Amen of this sweet prayer was reached, the stroke came. She was unconscious, and thus she lingered until five the next morning, when she passed into the presence of the Savior she so much loved. Sister Clemans's character is easily analyzed. It is simple as the light. "The secret of the Lord" was with her. "The beauty of the Lord her God" was upon her.

Sister McClay, while singing and playing in the Mission Church in China, leaned her head forward on the organ, and she was not, for God had joined her with the heavenly choir. Bishop Wiley, from the scene of his early mission toil in China, after commending the Church and her missions to God, went up to his crowning. Our beloved sister, also, from like blessed association with these and with Jesus in missionary work, was called hence. Blessed fellowship! Precious embalmment of the holy cause of missions in the lives and deaths of these saints and servants of God, "whose faith" let us follow, "considering the end of their conversation, Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, to-day, and forever."

THOMAS H. PEARNE.

MRS. LUCRETIA E. H. MOODY.

LUCRETIA ELIZABETH HARRIS MOODY, beloved wife of Rev. Granville Moody, D. D., was born in Virginia, on the present site of Jordan, White Sulphur Springs, Feb. 26, 1818. Her ancestral lineage, on both sides, was of the highest type, not only in social and civil relationships, but better far, in relation to Christianity and the Church of that early day. Mrs. Moody was born to a heritage in the Lord's house. Her sturdy father, Mr. Hickman Harris, secured his noble wife by pledging the godly mother that he would "not hinder, but help Elizabeth to live a Christian life." This same maternal grandmother declared, in a love-feast, that she had been divinely assured that her children's children, to the latest generation, would honor God and love the Savior." Her faith, thus far, has been happily and wonderfully verified. Her name was Elizabeth Kurtz. She came from Germany when ten years old.

In 1831 Mrs. Moody was withdrawn from a ladies' seminary, in Winchester, Va., where she had been a pupil for two or three years, to be brought, as the teachers said, protestingly, "to the wilderness of the West." But in this "wilderness," near Springfield, O., Mrs. Moody found her life's work — the labors and duties of which she cheerfully assumed, and performed without swerving and without regretting, to the end of her earthly pilgrimage. She was keenly sensitive to the beauties of nature, and frequently spoke with enthusiasm of the delights of that westward journey, performed in a gig, accompanied by her oldest brother, while the parents and younger children followed in the family carriage and a six-horse wagon.

In January, 1836, Mrs. Moody was united in marriage to Rev. Granville Moody (her sorrowing survivor), and for half a century, Brother and Sister Moody were earnest and pre-eminently successful co-workers in the itinerant ministry. Mrs. Moody was well fitted for her high calling. In a very peculiar sense was she a helpmeet to her companion, and an "ornament in the courts of the Lord's house." Her character, which was unique, impressed itself upon all who came within her influence. She had made excellent use of her early privileges of education; she was progressive, and always a close and correct observer. From an early age she was also endowed with a fine discriminating sense, and a high quality of courage, which together, kept her invariably, calm and self-poised.

She possessed, also a graceful and commanding presence, an intelligent perception of propriety, and a ready power of adaptation to surroundings, and to the necessities of practical life. The following beautiful tribute is from the heart and pen of her eldest daughter:

"I need not tell you, my mother's friend, how perennial was the Spring of her nature, how alive was every fiber, how acute each pleasure, how natural every emotion, and how unaffected its expression. She was full of all goodly conditions, and of infinite variety. Her tact was perfect, and never at the expense of entire truthfulness, which she gained in part by a wise reticence, both of word and act. She knew to speak, and, far greater knowledge, to keep silence. She knew 'how to be abased and how to abound,' and there was that in her nature that built a home round her, invisibly, intangibly, spiritually, even as she walked in strange places."

Mrs. Moody's Christian character was a rare union of duties and graces. Converted at a camp-meeting, in Virginia, at the early age of eight years, she was frequently known to say, that "never for a moment since that hour had she doubted her justified relation before God and the power of divine grace to keep her faithful to the end." Piety seemed inwrought into the entire web of her life, and suffusing itself over her whole being, was manifest in the smallest as well as in the great details of faith and duty.

"A woman, the like of whom,
If multiplied and in their stations set,
Would o'er the bosom of a fruitful land
Spread pure religion."

In each of her husband's numerous appointments Mrs. Moody was heartily welcomed as the pastor's wife, and immediately entered, actively and zealously, into every movement to promote the interests of the Redeemer's kingdom. Especially was she interested in, and a happy co-worker with the young, in all their social, Church organizations; and in the Sabbath-school, which seldom missed her presence, she was a power, felt and acknowledged by all. It was here that her versatility was most beautifully exemplified, and whether the exercises were of a social, devotional, or literary character, Mrs. Moody was equally at home on the occasion. There was that in her own freshness and sunniness of nature that allied her instinctively to youth, and this amiable disposition, going with her through life, kept her heart still young, as years made their passage over her head. The youngest daughter writes thus:

"Mother never seemed to me more vigorous and enterprising than in the last few years of her life, on till last March, when I began to see that she was failing. She enjoyed life, too, as well as ever, and made it such a bright and pleasant thing for all around her. It was impossible to conceive that she should ever grow old."

In her earthly, as in her divine loves, Mrs. Moody was eminently practical. Joining industry to devotion, it was her great aim to be useful, and to conduce daily to the comfort and happiness of all around her. She used to say, pleasantly, "I have no time for sentimentalities, you see; I love my dear ones with my hands and feet."

In the memorable year of 1862, Mrs. Moody's Christian heroism was subjected to the severest test, but faith and patriotism rose to the occasion, and nerved her for the sacrifice. Cheerfully, and with brave heart, she gave up both husband and son to their country's call, in defense of liberty and righteousness, and not even when the hazards and grim possibilities of war rose before her as a black wall did she waver or weep.

During their absence from home, Mrs. Moody disbanded her household in the parsonage of Morris Chapel, Cincinnati, now "St. Paul," and went to take care of her aged and feeble mother, who was at this time living in the loneliness of widowhood, in the homestead at Springfield. Immediately after the battle of Stone River, learning from vague and uncertain sources that her husband was among the wounded; and herself apprehending the worst, she braved all discomforts and dangers, and overcame all obstacles to reach him, which she successfully accomplished, traveling, in turn, by railway, wagon, government ambulance, and finally on horseback, across the field of battle to Gen. Moody's own head-quarters, in the advance line of the battle-ground, near Murfreesboro, Tennessee. Mrs. Moody often remarked that "that last stage of journey, two miles, might have been performed by stepping from one dead horse to another, so fierce and fatal had been the six days' strife of war. Here Mrs. Moody remained for a fortnight, faithfully and tenderly ministering, not only to the needs of her wounded husband, but to the lesser needs of tattered and homesick soldiers in his command; and many a "word, fitly spoken" to them, proved afterwards to be as "apples of gold in pictures of silver."

The keenest sorrow of Mrs. Moody's married life came to her in the death of her noble and promising son, Lieutenant William H. H. Moody, Topographical Engineer and Staff Officer on General Negley's Staff, who, having escaped the deadly weapons of war, yet fell a victim to the cause, from disease contracted in the army. He died in the Summer of 1864, at the family residence, in Piqua, O, to which station his father had been appointed, by the Conference, after resigning his position in the army, and while himself was on furlough because of impaired health. Under the deep affliction of her son's death, Mrs. Moody was the comfort and strength of all the family, bearing her own share of sorrow with the Roman mother's fortitude, and the Christian mother's hope. The sisters have since said, "We thought it impossible that she felt our brother's death as keenly as we, because she so controlled her anguish, and let no duty, however small, pass, even at the very grave's mouth. But when, later, she told us, that 'for years it hurt her to see the sun shine,' we knew better 'the depth of her bereavement.'"

This great sorrow, as was apparent to all, brought her into closer union with the spiritual and unseen. Her piety wore a deeper and holier tinge. The grace of God which abounded in her life, was more conspicuous in the spiritual serenity and cheerfulness of soul, sustained in the midst of so sad a bereavement. Mother and son are both sleeping the sleep that "God gives to his beloved," in graves widely sundered by areas of earth, but their spirits, doubtless, are sweetly mingling in the celestial communion.

Another sore trial of Mrs. Moody's experience presented itself when her husband's broken health and extremely feeble condition made it necessary for him to ask a superannuated relation to this Conference, thus ceasing from the active work of the ministry. But here, again, her supreme good sense, and ready acceptance of exigencies, together with an unquestioning submission to the divine will, not only sustained her own spirit, but made her a strength and solace to her husband in the sorrow that well-nigh rent his soul. Lovingly and without fear she went forth with the grand companion and co-laborer of her life, to new scenes, and to smaller spheres of action; and our hearts ejaculated blessings on them as they went, and we knew that they who had been so faithful and successful in that which is much, would neither falter nor fail in that which is less. Their hearts clung ever "to the old friends," and, present or absent, were always loyal to them.

Last Winter, about holiday time, numerous and beautifully wrought cards of invitation, were sent forth, bidding friends from every home of the past, to their golden anniversary wedding, which was to be celebrated Jan. 19th, under the commodious roof of their son-in-law, "Rev. Prof. Hugh Boyd, D. D.," of Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa. The kindly sympathetic responses to those cards, that poured in upon them for days, by every mail, and reached our sister upon her couch of feebleness, proved a keen pleasure to her, a member of the family said, "one of the rarest delights of her whole life." The single regret was; "O, if I might only see them all." But alas, "How swift trod sorrow on the heels of joy." It proved the last anniversary.

In the first stages of Mrs. Moody's decline, there seemed to be no particular disease, rather only a gradual and gentle exhaustion of strength. But friends were not deceived. Instantly husband and children recognized and revered in her that majestic grace of departing days, that attends the going out of lofty and virtuous life.

Mrs. Boyd touchingly writes: "Mother came home to us last September, bright and cheerful as ever, but very frail. She continued to grow weaker every day, and by Thanksgiving time was so feeble that I did not let her rise until after taking her breakfast, and then one day she did not feel like getting up at all, and that was the beginning of the end."

But days of intense suffering were in store for our dear sister, through which she bore herself with sweetness and resignation; though, had it been the Heavenly Father's will, she would fain have lingered in life for the sake of the loved one, who, she felt, still needed her presence, and, in his increasing years, and feebleness, more than ever. Once, when it seemed to anxious watchers, that the death-angel had indeed come, her agonized husband said to her, "Wife, for you to live is Christ, but to die will be your gain." "Yes," she replied, "that is true, but there is work for me yet. You can not spare me, do not talk of my dying." Thus her thought was for others and not herself, even when face to face with the supreme solemnity. A loving watcher by the sick-bed said, "All through her sufferings she was her unselfish self, natural, transparent, clear as crystal, genuine, even in fever and delirium."

At last the messenger came in very truth, and was recognized simultaneously by patient sufferer and waiting friends. With the utmost composure, and with a loving smile for all about her bed, she brokenly articulated, in several attempts, "THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD!" and stepped trustingly down into the dark valley, through which all who go must journey alone. The date of death was Feb. 5, 1886.

We have sketched the outlines of this active and beautiful life with a sympathetic hand. It was a life that was a benediction to our own, and more than once rose as a bright star of hope and joy above the storm clouds that darkened our spiritual sky. Mrs. Moody was a true, tried, and steadfast friend. Her children call her, "Our blessed mother," and the eloquent lips of her husband fail of language only when he would speak the praises of his wife, telling of the luster she shed over his individual life, and of the willing and devoted service she joined to his, in the sacred cause so dear to them both.

Verily, the heritage of such a character is most precious. "God's grace embalms it, and, after it has disappeared from human sight, makes it to live on and on, exerting still its quota of influence towards the work of molding this world to the Divine will."

"Only the actions of the just Smell sweet, and blossom from the dust."

Loving hands of husband, sons, and daughters laid the remains of our dear departed beautifully away beneath the greensward and the bright flowers of the cemetery, at Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

"Go to thy grave! No, take thy seat above.
Be thy pure spirit present with the Lord,
Where thou, for faith and hope hast perfect love,
And open vision for the written word."

S. J. M. CONWELL.

(Read by REV. WM. HERR.)

[The above memoir admits of the following excerpt from the beautiful paper read before the Conference by Dr. S. Weeks, and which sets forth Mrs. Moody's adaptability in connection with her "crusade" experiences.—EDITORS OF MEMOIRS.]

Mrs. Moody's adaptability shone out most conspicuously in the "crusade," which, like the "Day of Pentecost," brief in itself, yet put in motion a train of influences which shall move on till He shall reign "whose right it is." Dealing with good men who were conservative, with some impulsive men and women with views bordering on fanaticism, and with wicked men and women whose mercenary profits and sensual indulgences were interfered with, she, as the prompt and efficient leader, conducted the campaign successfully, without alienating a single friend or drawing upon herself the personal malignity of an enemy of the righteous cause. Dr. Moody, Presiding Elder of the District; Dr. Hamilton, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and I were frequently consulted as to methods, and often, after laborious ascent as we reached the summit of a conclusion, we found that her womanly intuition had carried her to the elevation, and she sat serenely waiting with unfatigued energy to carry forward the work. I shall never forget one scene in that ever-memorable movement. I had drawn, in colored crayons, a temperance design on the blackboard, and displaying it in the lecture-room of the Methodist Church in Ripley, whence the ladies started, after prayer and Christian conference, to plead with men as one pleads for his life to abandon their death-dealing business, she stood in her place between the front pew and the communion rail, her queenly form erect, her left hand extended toward the object lesson, of which she said "the sight of the eye affects the heart;" her right hand, in entreating gesture, extended toward her sister-workers; her head, with its silvery crown of gray and brimming eyes for a moment cast down as though weighted with its load of intense interest, then upward toward heaven, as though assured of the triumph of the right, received anew her baptism as the consecrated leader of the advance-guard of the triumphing temperance and Christian host. Her power of adaptation was not the cunning of nature, or the result of culture, but the grace of God to one willing and obedient.

MRS. MARY L. DEEM.

MARY L. DEEM was born in Burlington, N. J., October 15, 1812. When but a child she came to the State of Ohio, where she remained until her death. When fifteen years of age she attended a camp-meeting, near Xenia, Ohio, where she became deeply interested in religion, and on the 10th of September, 1827, was converted. She was united in marriage to the Rev. John C. Deem, of the Cincinnati Conference, Aug. 20, 1863. Their married life was spent happily together. She rendered her husband great help in his pastoral work, and was always willing to visit the afflicted, administering the consolations of divine grace. She lived a life of prayer, was a constant reader of the Bible, and greatly enjoyed the conversation of Christian friends. The death of her husband, Jan. 21, 1879, cast the shadow of a great sorrow over her soul, but in all her grief she felt the presence of the Comforter in the blessing of per-feet love. Sustained by the power of divine grace, she lived a blameless life. As her body became emaciated by disease, her soul seemed to develop a new life. A few days before her death she was visited by her pastor and Rev. W. L. Hypes, who conducted devotional services. When asked by a member of the family if she knew them, she answered: "Yes, I know you and love you all;" and, pointing with her finger upward, she said: "I love my Savior." When very near the end, she seemed to have a vision of her reception into the Church, and seemed again to receive the right-hand of fellowship from Rev. W. H. Raper, her pastor at that time. The end and the beginning of her Christian life seemed to come so near together as to touch each other, and thus complete the circle of her religious experience. She passed peacefully away on the 13th of July, 1886, at Camden, O., and was buried in the old church-yard, at Winchester, O.

W. G. WARNER.

MRS. ELEANOR B. OWENS.

MRS. ELEANOR BREWINGTON OWENS, relict of the late Rev. Geo. B. Owens, was born in 1806, near Salisbury, Md. She departed this life Aug. 27, 1886, at her home in Yellow Springs, Ohio. She moved to Ohio in 1828, locating in the vicinity of Xenia, where she became acquainted with, and united in marriage to, Geo. B. Owens, by Rev. Thos. Peacham, June 11, 1829. It was a happy union, not even to be chilled by the cold hand of death, nor effaced from memory by the wear of ages.

She was the devoted mother of four sons, one of whom died in infancy; another, Wm. Raper, preceded her but a few weeks; and John F. and Ira, still survive, to cherish her memory and emulate her virtuous life.

She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in the bloom of young womanhood, and became a member of Christ's kingdom through faith, thereby, in addition to her other qualifications, fitting her for the honored and responsible position of an itinerant's wife.

She was a faithful helpmeet, ever willing to aid her husband in "every good word and work." Her zeal for the Master kindled to a flame in revival meetings, when her voice could be distinctly heard, earnestly pleading for sinners. Her presence was a benediction. The clouds of her life were but shadows, beyond which she beheld a smiling providence. Much of her life was spent on the summits of Pisgah, from which she could see the fair land not afar off. Her strong faith in God and the unseen transformed her life into a living epistle, from which the despondent saint took fresh courage and inspired the sinner with confidence in the religion she professed and lived. Her long suffering and forbearance charmed those who knew her into a sweeter and better life. She delighted in mingling with the lowly, and earnestly sought their salvation.

Though called to suffer much through sickness and the infirmities of age, she retained her cheerful spirit and good humor, speaking words of wit and wisdom to the last. Her end was victorious. A few hours before entering on her triumphant voyage, her pastor recited to her the 23d Psalm, when she emphasized the fourth verse, repeating the sentence, "I will fear no evil," and the sentiment found in the terms: "Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." Divine comfort sustained her soul amid the swellings of Jordan, being both conscious and happy as death approached. Her friends sang to her of heaven, in which she joined. In broken words she then expressed her desire for the song, "Shall we gather at the river," in which she endeavored to join. Her voice failing, she placed her hand upon her heart in token of a bright hope, and a keen sense of its realization. When departing, she waved back a final affectionate farewell. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, yea, saith the Spirit, for they rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

The funeral service took place at Yellow Springs, August 29th, conducted by the pastor. The remains were conveyed to the beautiful cemetery at Xenia. Dr. Marlay officiated at the grave.
